

ELIGIBILITY CENTER

APPLY TO JOIN THE MEMBERSHIP ADVISORY GROUP

Overview

Comprised of compliance administrators and others involved in the Division III membership space nationally, the Eligibility Center Membership Advisory Group teleconferences quarterly. Members provide critical insight into the most recent needs, trends and challenges faced by Division III member schools and others who advocate and support prospective student-athletes. Member input helps guide Eligibility Center staff to more effective and efficient ways to support schools and prospective student-athletes across the country and around the world.

Application and Requirements

Interested in becoming a member of the Division III Membership Advisory Group? To apply, please submit a resume and 500-word statement describing why you would like to serve as a member of the Membership Advisory Group to ecupdate@ncaa.org.

- » Applicants must be a full-time employee of an NCAA Division III school located in the United States or a U.S. territory.
- » Applicant's member school responsibilities must include direct and regular interaction with student-athletes and/or recruits.
- » Applicants must have a general knowledge of the Eligibility Center certification process.
- » Applicants must be available for a (minimum) quarterly teleconference, as well as responsive to other email outreach as necessary.
- » Entries must be submitted by 11:59 p.m. Eastern time, Friday, September 27.
  - Late submissions cannot be considered.

The Membership Advisory Group is seeking applicants from schools nationwide and all U.S. territories, as well as different socioeconomic circumstances and resource levels. Minority representatives strongly encouraged to apply.

Note: Participation in the group is a two-year commitment and will require you to participate in quarterly teleconferences during the academic year.
