

HOW TO FILL OUT HOME SCHOOL EDUCATION HISTORY

After creating your account, navigate to the Schools section by selecting “Schools Questions” in the menu in the top right of your screen.

Begin answering the questions.

1. Tell the Eligibility Center if you’re a home school student.

Note: If you tell the Eligibility Center you’re a home school student, you won’t be able to change your home school status until you can provide six semesters of transcripts from all schools you have attended showing you’re not a home school student.

2. A home school course is one in which a parent/guardian, tutor or state-recognized home school entity created the curriculum, provided the instruction, designed and graded the assignments or gave the final grade. If you’re not sure whether the classes you have taken are considered home school classes, learn more at ncaa.org/student-athletes/future/home-school-students.
3. Complete all questions regarding your education history and provide any additional information if needed.
4. At the end of the school year, update your Eligibility Center account with any new schools/programs not known at time of initial registration.
5. Learn about home school documentation with the Home School Toolkit.
