Texas-Tyler edges Transylvania to claim school's first national championship: Swan songs don't come much sweeter than the one Texas-Tyler head coach King Campbell experienced May 17 at the Sandestin Golf and Beach Resort in Miramar Beach, Fla.

His men's team won the 2013 NCAA Division III team title then almost three hours later, the Texas-Tyler women finished second behind Mary Hardin-Baylor, with freshman Laura Lindsay as the medalist.

"What a story," said Campbell, retired after the championships.

The Texas-Tyler men finished with a seven-stroke victory over second-place Transylvania after trailing by two strokes as the final round began. Consistency and the ability to make needed shots propelled them ahead on Sandestin's Raven course.

"They are just a great story," Campbell said. "They just played with a confidence that there was nothing left to lose — we barely got in the tournament — and these kids just didn't give up. They just didn't give up."

His squad, which stood third after the opening round, simply didn't fade, remaining knotted at the top of the standings with Transylvania and eventual third-place finisher Methodist as each day's rounds progressed. Although his players knew Campbell was retiring, senior Joey Rippel said the full impact of what was happening on the final day didn't hit him until the final groups were completing their rounds.

"I realized how big this was and how important it was for him," Rippel said. "This is the best gift we could give him."

Rippel played a huge role, per his head coach. It was his first-round rebound that set the tone for his teammates' run.

"The first day, [Rippel had] been playing really poorly in the practice round and before," said Campbell. "He hit a ball that stopped about a foot from going out of bounds. He ended up making bogey on that hole, but then he eagled the next hole and everything seemed to be a bonus from that point because he had been struggling so bad. In fact, they had to offer him more golf balls after the practice round because he had hit so many in the water."

The Patriots' triumph was as much a landmark to Rippel as it was to his coach. Diagnosed with Hodgkin's lymphoma in 2007, he endured six months of chemo-therapy and radiation as a high school junior.

"After that, I was just happy to play golf in college," said Rippel, who finished in a three-way tie for 16th place. "Because I didn't play much high school, I didn't have many opportunities and Coach offered me a spot."

Rippel received his five-year, clean bill-of-health — a milestone for cancer survivors — only weeks before the championships, making his first-round renaissance even sweeter.

"He's the finest young man I think I've ever coached," Campbell said. "He never gets down on himself, never gets mad, never uses profanity. A class guy whether he's shooting a low or high round, and he hung in there all four days when he wasn't playing well."

"I can't say that I was thinking that we were going to win it at that point, but I think that was a turning point."

At the opposite end of Texas-Tyler's feel-good performance was freshman Buddy Hallman, who finished second in the individual competition to medalist Brad Shigezawa of Claremont-Mudd-Scripps. Like Rippel, the import of winning the school's first Division III golf title for the outgoing Campbell, struck as he walked the last few holes.

"On the first tee, I wasn't nervous," said Hallman, the 6-foot-5 freshman who wears a size-15 shoe. "But for some reason, when we got to 16, I could tell by his body language — he was walking around and smiling — and I was lucky to get on the green."

Hallman's four-day performance — rounds of 75, 70, 70 and 72, respectively — formed the backbone of Texas-Tyler's surge. And it couldn't have been predicted earlier this season, when a solid autumn deteriorated to the point that Campbell sat him for several spring tournaments.

"Then he started playing better," Campbell said. "But [on the final day], he was so nervous. We got to the tee on 16 and he said, 'Coach, where do we stand?' And I said, 'Well, buddy, we've got a lead,' and he said, 'I think I'm going to faint.' And I said, 'Well, don't throw up.'"

Shigezawa posted a four-stroke victory in the individual competition. He was Claremont-Mudd-Scripps' second medalist in the last four years, joining 2010 champion Tain Lee.
