NATIONAL COLLEGIATE WOMEN'S

Highlights

Alabama captures fifth team title: Alabama gymnastics won its fifth NCAA championship in Cleveland, Ohio, in a down-to-the-wire, edge-of-your-seat competition that saw the Crimson Tide edge defending champion UCLA, 197.650-197.375.

"I cannot say enough about the unity that this team has had," Alabama head coach Sarah Patterson said. "Enjoy the Ride" was their slogan for this season and I think we are enjoying the ride right now."

Alabama was just .025 ahead of the Bruins heading into the final rotation with the Tide headed to the floor exercise and UCLA going to the beam. Alabama finished off with 49.450 led by senior Kayla Hoffman's meet-best 9.95 while the Bruins scored a 49.200.

This marks coaches Sarah and David Patterson's fifth NCAA championship, with the others coming in 2002, 1996, 1991 and 1988. Alabama also won its seventh Southeastern Conference Championship and 26th NCAA Regional title earlier this season, giving the Tide its first postseason sweep since the 1988 season.

"For my husband, David, and I, this is our 29th consecutive trip to the NCAA championships," Patterson said. "I want you to know that the competition has never been any tighter or any tougher. There were a lot of great teams on the floor tonight and I think the biggest difference was that people were not perfect, but we left nothing out on the floor."

The championship's final rotation was the stuff legends are made of. With Alabama leading by slimmest possible margin, both teams started the rotation with scores of 9.85. UCLA tied the meet when its second gymnast scored a 9.825 while Alabama scored a 9.8. The Bruins moved ahead by .025 after their third gymnast scored a 9.875 and Alabama answered with a 9.850.

From there though, it was all Alabama. Freshman Diandra Milliner scored a 9.875 to take the lead back and junior Geralen Stack-Eaton and Hoffman closed out the meet and the Bruins by scoring the two highest floor scores of the day, 9.925 and 9.95 respectively.

The Tide set itself up for the title in the fourth rotation when it scored a 49.350 on the balance beam, the second-highest total of the weekend, led by freshman Kim Jacob's career-high 9.950, which was also the highest beam score of the weekend.

It was after Jacob's routine that the tension mounted for the Tide when Hoffman fell from the beam. Freshman Sarah DeMeo, up next, came through in the clutch though with a 9.825 while Stack-Eaton finished things off with a 9.875.

"The moment that I think made the difference was after Kayla made the mistake on the balance beam," Patterson said. "She came off the podium and freshman Sarah DeMeo was standing there and Geralen was next to her, Kayla just smiled and told Sarah, 'I know we've got this.'"

Alabama got its championship run started with a blistering 49.575 on the vault, the highest score of the night on any event, led by matching 9.95s from Hoffman and Milliner. The Tide followed that with a solid 49.275 on the uneven bars led by Hoffman's 9.925 in the anchor spot.

By the midway point of the meet, Alabama and UCLA were tied and the pressure and excitement were building throughout the building, except, perhaps in Alabama's coral and locker room.

The chemistry of this team is probably the best of any team I have been on," Stack-Eaton said. "We just had fun in the locker room - we danced, we played charades and Catch Phrase. Even in our corals we stayed loose and within ourselves and didn't look at any other teams because we didn't want to get distracted."

Stack-Eaton's 39.475 all-around score was the second highest of the night while Jacob, who was competing in the all-around for the second time in as many days and just the fourth time all season, was third with a career-best 39.425.

In the individual event finals, Stack-Eaton (floor exercise), Florida's Marissa King (vault) and Georgia's Kat Ding (uneven parallel bars) took home individual event titles, giving the Southeastern Conference four total crowns at the event.

"Because our in-house competition is so strong, seeing the SEC be successful here is more rewarding than anything else," Ding said. "We have so many powerhouse programs, but we put aside our college differences and support each other once we get to nationals."

UCLA's Samantha Peszek (balance beam) claimed the only non-SEC championship on the third and final day of competition. Michigan senior Kylee Botterman earned the all-around title April 15.

"This was an exciting event, but it's also scary because it shows how exceptionally strong the SEC is from top to bottom," Florida coach Rhonda Faehn said. "And what I like the most is the way each of our teams puts a different artistic stamp on its program."

Stack-Eaton's score of 9.9375 on the floor was the highest of the day on any apparatus. Botterman, Florida's Maranda Smith and defending champion Brittani McCullough of UCLA tied for second place at 9.9.

"This was a really good weekend and it was really nice to end it up here on the podium," said Stack-Eaton, a native of Horsham, Pa.

King, who competed for Great Britain at the 2008 Summer Olympics, had a winning mark of 9.875 on the vault. Oklahoma's Madison Mooring was second at 9.825, but couldn't match the level of difficulty in the sophomore's routine.

"Having two different vaults with a 10.0 start value really helped me," said King, who hails from Cambridge, England, and is first Gators gymnast to capture an individual trophy since 1998. "I'm very proud and honored to compete for Florida and to win this title."

Ding, a junior from Sparks, Nev., joined Stack-Eaton in notching the largest victory margin of 0.0375. The Athens Regional titlist was the second participant on the bars, where she scored a 9.9125 to beat Oregon State's Jen Kesler (9.875).

"It was nerve-racking sitting there watching everybody else (in the 15-woman field)," Ding said. "I'm just thankful that today was the day my routine decided to show up."

Peszek prevented an SEC sweep April 17 by scoring a 9.9 to earn UCLA's sixth all-time title on the beam. Alabama's Hoffman and Bruins teammate Aisha Gerber tied for second at 9.8875.

Despite being a freshman, Indianapolis native Peszek already owns a silver medal as part of the United States team at the 2008 Summer Olympics.

"I'm kind of new to the college thing, so I had no clue what this weekend was going to entail," she said, giggling. "It's completely different than anything I've been a part of, but I absolutely loved every minute of it. Beam is my favorite event and being here was awesome."
