

Outdoor Track and Field

DIVISION I

2001 Championships

Highlights

Three-two-one: Southern California's progression up the Division I women's outdoor track and field chart resembled the countdown to a new year or the launch of a spacecraft.

The Trojans reached the top spot May 30-June 2 at Oregon after finishing second in 2000 and third the previous year. Led by three event winners, Southern California finished with 64 points, nine more than second-place UCLA.

Southern California received first-place performances from Angela Williams in the 100-meter dash, Brigita Langerholc in the 800-meter run and Inga Stasiulionyte in the javelin throw. The win was the third straight for Williams, the first time a competitor has accomplished that feat in the 100 in the championships' 20-year history.

UCLA finished second for the seventh time, including three of the last four years. The Bruins were sparked by Christina Tolson, the winner in the shot put and runner-up in the hammer throw.

The Pacific-10 Conference swept the top three places in the team standings, as Arizona took third with 44 points. The Wildcats' Brianna Glenn was the meet's only double winner after capturing the 200-meter dash and long jump.

Southern Methodist's Florence Ezeh joined Williams as a winner for the third year in a row. Setting meet records were Ezeh in the hammer throw and Austra Skujyte of Kansas State in the decathlon.
