

Indoor Track and Field

DIVISION III MEN'S

Highlights

Vazquez, Hoeschen take home crowns as Wisconsin-La Crosse scores 16th indoor title – Wisconsin-La Crosse captured its 16th NCAA Division III indoor championship at the Al B. Carius Track at North Central (Illinois). The 16 indoor crowns are the most in NCAA Division III history. The Eagles finished with 74 team points, winning their first indoor title since 2009. Wisconsin-La Crosse has captured nine of the past 13 indoor championships.

Wisconsin-La Crosse has won a nation-leading 27 NCAA Division III track and field championships (16 indoor, 11 outdoor). The 11 outdoor crowns also are the best in Division III history.

Wisconsin-Oshkosh placed second with 40 points while Wisconsin-Eau Claire was third with 37 and Wisconsin-Whitewater fourth with 35. North Central (Illinois), which had won the past three national indoor titles, finished in eighth place with 17 points.

Along with winning the team title, Wisconsin-La Crosse had a pair of individual national champions as Isaac Vazquez captured his first career indoor title in the triple jump (51 feet, 3 1/2 inches) and Aric Hoeschen won his first national crown in the 400-meter dash (48.20 seconds). Vazquez also has two outdoor national titles (long jump in 2012, triple jump in '11).

Vazquez became the first Wisconsin-La Crosse student-athlete to win the indoor triple jump national title since Bill Schroeder in 1992. Hoeschen is the first since Nate Olson in 2005 and 2006 to capture the indoor 400-meter dash crown.

Vazquez set a school record in winning the triple jump, breaking the mark of 51-1 3/4 by Bill Schroeder in 1993. Vazquez also set an Al B. Carius Track facility record. It was his second All-America honor of this year's championships after placing second in the long jump (24 feet, 1 1/2 inches). He ends his career with seven NCAA Division III All-America indoor honors, including four in the triple jump. Along with this year's national title, he was eighth in 2010 and third in '11 and '12. Vazquez earned three career long-jump honors, placing second this season and third in 2011 and '12.

Vazquez also has six career outdoor All-America honors. He won the national title in the triple jump in 2011 while placing second in '12 and sixth in '10. Vazquez captured the outdoor long-jump crown in 2012 while finishing fifth in '11 and seventh in '10.

Hoeschen captured the 400-meter dash title after placing third last season. He set a facility record in winning the final day's race.

Hoeschen earned his second All-America honor of the meet in the final event of the competition as a member of the Eagles' third-place 1,600-meter relay (3:17.11). He joined Tyson Young, Christian Wendland and Nick Tehan on the relay. Hoeschen ends his indoor career with six All-America honors. Along with the national title this year and third-place finish last season, he was on Wisconsin-La Crosse's national champion 1,600-meter relay and fourth-place distance medley relay in 2011. Hoeschen also was on a second-place 1,600-meter relay in 2010.

He has NCAA Division III All-America outdoor recognitions, including three in the 400-meter dash (third in 2012, sixth in '10 and seventh in '11). Hoeschen has been a member of three All-America 4x400-meter outdoor relays (fourth in 2010 and '11, seventh in '12).

Young and Tehan each earned their second career All-America indoor award as part of UW-L's 4x400-meter relay while Wendland picked up his first honor. Young was on the Eagles' national champion 4x400-meter relay in 2011 while Tehan was a member of the sixth-place distance medley relay last season.
