Division III Championship Highlights

2014

Sea Gulls down Bantams 9-6, claim second consecutive title: Having experienced the haunting sense of disappointment that accompanied consecutive state-championship game losses in their final two seasons as Westminster High School, May 25 provided an awfully sweet sense of redemption for both Bethany Baer and Kate Haker.

Although history repeated itself their freshmen seasons at Salisbury, that could not have been further from their thoughts as the final seconds counted down. Soon after the final horn sounded, both were engulfed in a sea of maroon and gold in the corner of Gettysburg's Clark Field, deliriously celebrating a second consecutive NCAA Division III Women's Lacrosse Championship title victory after the second-ranked Sea Gulls finalized a 9-6 triumph against No. 3 Trinity (CT).

After their previous disappointments, they are becoming accustomed to experiencing this championship feeling: The dancing around with teammates, the posing for pictures that were instantly plastered across social media after becoming the first repeat national champions since TCNJ in 2005-06.

Before turning their focus toward a three-peat -- only TCNJ has hoisted the Walnut and Bronze in more than back-to-back years among Division III women's lacrosse programs, reigning from 1993-96 -- it only seems appropriate to recognize how Bear and Haker helped the Sea Gulls celebrate again.

While Salisbury (23-1) posted only the fifth first-half shutout in championship-game history as Baer and senior goalie Ashton Wheatley sparked a stifling defensive showing, Haker scored her second hat trick in as many games. Two of her tallies came off free position shots, while another came off a feed from senior Shannon Carta, staking the Sea Gulls to a 5-0 lead through 35 minutes.

It was an almost 180-degree turn from 2012, the last time Salisbury's juniors lost a championship game, when Trinity (CT) led 4-0 at intermission before holding on for an 8-7 victory.

Before Trinity (CT) (19-3) staged a too-little, too-late rally that produced the final score, Baer sewed up Most Outstanding Player honors with a pair of goals, her 47th and 48th of the season, to ensure that the Sea Gulls would repeat as national champions.

And to think: Baer and Haker have a chance to add another title to that legacy next May.

Salisbury captures national crown in rematch of 2012 championship tilt: Salisbury jumped out to an early lead against Trinity (CT) in the first half and was never seriously challenged the rest of the way en route to a 12-5 victory and its second NCAA Division III women's lacrosse crown in school history.

The last time two unbeaten teams met for the DIII title was in 2004, when Middlebury edged TCNJ 13-11 in overtime.

The first half was virtually all Salisbury, up 6-2 at the break. After Trinity scored a couple of goals early in the second half, the Sea Gulls again set sail and cruised to the victory.

After falling short in the title game last year to Trinity (CT), the victory was especially sweet for Salisbury.

Senior attacker Lauren Feusahrens recorded a game-high five goals on seven shot attempts. Meanwhile, senior attacker Maggie Roundy added a pair of goals for the Gulls.

Salisbury last won the national championship in 2010, after falling in the title game the year before.

Ashton Wheatley played all 60 minutes and had nine saves between the pipes in the winning effort.

2012

Trinity (CT) wins national title; Hildebrand's late goals lift Bantams to program's first title:

Junior attacker Kaitlin Hildebrand scored two of the most important goals in Trinity (CT) program history. She scored both the game-tying and the game-winning goals in the second half to lead the Bantams to an 8-7 victory against the top-ranked and previously-undefeated Salisbury Sea Gulls in the 2012 NCAA Division III Championship.

Hildebrand, senior co-captains Liz Bruno and Liza Beckler, junior goalkeeper Olivia Whitney, and sophomore attackmer Shea Kusiak were named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament Team, and Bruno took home Most Outstanding Player honors. Salisbury ends its year at 22-1.

Trinity scored the only four goals of the first half, as the defensive unit of Beckler, junior Mallory Hinman and sophomores Lyndsey Shepard and Midge Daniel held Salisbury to just five shots and Whitney made saves on all three shots on goal. Hildebrand scored the first goal of the game 2:04 into the contest on a wrap around the back of the goal, beating Salisbury sophomore goalie Ashton Wheatley who had left the crease. Bantam rookie midfielder Caroline Hayes scored on a free position with 10:43 on the clock, and junior attacker Hadley Duncan scored on a spin move followed by a bouncing shot past Wheatley for a 3-0 Trinity lead with 7:12 remaining. Kusiak completed the first-half scoring with just under five minutes left before the break, darting through the Sea Gull defense up the middle. Salisbury junior midfielder Kara Koolidge hit the post on a shot from close late in the first half to account for the closest Sea Gull chance of the opening stanza. The Sea Gulls committed 11 turnovers in the first half and faced a four-goal deficit for the first time this spring.

Salisbury answered in a big way after intermission, scoring five unanswered goals beginning with an unassisted tally by senior midfielder Alyssa Fowler just 48 seconds into the second half. Sea Gull junior midfielder Lauren Feusahrens fed rookie Bethany Baer on the second Salisbury goal and scored twice more to tie the game at 4-4 with 19:14 on the clock. Senior midfielder Amanda Holsclaw scored from junior attackman Katie Bollhorst at the 17:11 mark to give Salisbury its first and only lead at 5-4.

Just over one minute after falling behind for the first time of the weekend, Hildebrand drew a foul on an attempt from the left side and converted the ensuing free-position shot with a shot high and to the left of Wheatley. Hildebrand, who scored the game-winning goal with four seconds left in Trinity's NESCAC Finals win against Middlebury and the game-tying goal to force overtime in the NESCAC Semifinal win against Hamilton two weekends ago, netted the clincher in this game with 13:07 remaining, as Bruno found her cutting down the middle from the right wing. Duncan tallied Trinity's third free-position goal of the game with 11:16 left, and Bruno powered through the Sea Gull defense and scored to give the Bantams a three-goal cushion at 8-5 with just under 10 minutes remaining in the contest. Baer scored a minute later and again with 2:28 left to close the deficit to one, but Trinity was awarded the draw on a violation and Trinity held possession until the final seconds. Salisbury pressured the ball aggressively in the final two minutes, but Duncan hustled down a pair of loose balls to help preserve the win.

Trinity doubled Salisbury's ground ball total, 14-to-7, and held an 18-to-14 edge on shots, while Salisbury led on draw controls, 11-to-6, but committed 16 turnovers and came up empty on two free positions. Hildebrand had a hat trick, while Bruno totaled one goal, one assist, and a game-high five ground balls, and junior midfielder Megan Leonhard won four draw controls. Beckler caused three turnovers, and Whitney finished with five saves. Baer scored three times for Salisbury, while senior midfielder Allie Wheatley totaled four draw controls, and Ashton Wheatley stopped four shots. The Bantam women's lacrosse squad, appearing in the NCAA tournament for the eighth time and the third year in a row, gave Trinity its second NCAA title as an institution. The Trinity baseball team won the 2008 title with a 45-1 record, while Trinity's men's squash team won national intercollegiate crowns 13 years in a row from 1998 to 2011, and the Bantam women's squash team won national titles in 2002 and 2003.

Gettysburg's first half sparks title win; Gettysburg's Church named Most outstanding Performer: Gettysburg captured its first NCAA Division III championship in dominating fashion with a 16-5 victory over Bowdoin in the women's lacrosse finals held on Sunday.

The Bullets scored 11 goals in the first half and never let the Polar Bears get back in the game.

Appearing in its second national final ever, Gettysburg (19-4) handily won its first national title in program history, and just the second national championship ever attained school history. The 1980 field hockey team won the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAAW) Division III title, a squad on which current women's lacrosse coach Carol Canetele was a member.

Most Outstanding Performer Hannah Church finished with a Gettysburg record-tying eight points on five goals and three assists. Kelsey Markiewicz pumped in four goals for the second-straight day and was also named All-Tournament, while junior goalie Maddie Coleman garnered All-Tournament accolades after posting nine saves in the final.

Joining the aforementioned trio on the NCAA All-Tournament team were sophomore Lindsey Robinson, who finished with one goal and three assists, and sophomore Mairead McGuirk, who led Gettysburg to a 13-10 advantage in draw controls.

Diplomats' win over Salisbury an exercise in control: Franklin & Marshall approached the Division III Women's Lacrosse Championship with a simple philosophy: control the ball, control the game. The Diplomats did just that, beating Salisbury, 11-8, by winning most of the second-half draws and forcing the Sea Gulls to vigorously defend their goal.

The championship game was May 20 at William Smith.

Franklin & Marshall opened with an unassisted goal from Ashley Bevington less than a minute into the contest. From there, the teams traded goals until they had four apiece at the half.

The Diplomats scored three consecutive goals to start the second half, assisted by six straight draw victories. Jen Pritchard, the tournament's most outstanding player, scored all of her four goals in the second half. Teammate Sarah Meisenberg also scored four times in the contest.

The Sea Gulls made a run during the closing seconds, with senior Natalie Degele and sophomore Robyn Bishop both scoring within 13 seconds of each other, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Diplomats' lead.

The 21-2 Sea Gulls, whose only two defeats came at the hands of Franklin & Marshall, set school records for goals, assists and points scored.

Franklin & Marshall's undefeated season was only the 12th in Division III women's lacrosse, and the title is the institution's second. Freshman Blake Hargest also set a record for most assists in the tournament, finishing with 14.

Lions ride prolific scorer to Women's Lacrosse Championship: Senior midfielder Lauren Dougher of The College of New Jersey finished her lacrosse career on a high note in the Division III championship, leading the Lions to the 2006 title over Gettysburg and breaking the record for career goals scored in the postseason.

Bolstered by four goals from Dougher and a hat trick from teammate Rachel Gordon, the Lions repeated as champion by beating the previously undefeated Bullets, 10-4, at Stevens Institute May 21.

The 2005 victory was over a heavily favored team as well — Salisbury came into the game ranked No. 1, just as Gettysburg did this year.

Dougher was named the tournament's most outstanding player, an honor she also earned in 2005. She ends her career with 50 goals in the Division III tournament, surpassing the 46 scored by fellow Lion Jen Hart. Dougher also ends with 66 points, equaling the mark set by former Middlebury player Kristen Hanley.

The Lions last won consecutive titles in the mid-1990s, when they were crowned champions six years in a row.

The Lions finished the season 15-2, with their only losses coming earlier in the season to Gettysburg and Cortland State, both by one goal. In the end, though, TCNJ stopped Gettysburg just short of perfection, as the Bullets finished at 21-1.

Dougher led the team's assertive offense, but the Lions' defense was smothering, holding the Bullets to their lowest goal total since 1998. Two of Gettysburg's first five shots bounced off the post, but the Bullets finally connected with 8:24 to play in the first half. TCNJ dominated the game from start to finish, allowing only one goal in the first period, then holding the Bullets without a score until 12:25 left in the game.

Lions Turn Tide on Sea Gulls: The College of New Jersey won its first national championship since 2000 with a 9-7 victory over previously No. 1-ranked Salisbury. The game was played on the Lions' home turf May 22.

TCNJ's senior midfielder Lauren Gossner struck first four minutes into play, and the goal stood until nearly 19 minutes later when the Sea Gulls' Amanda Tack connected. The Lions answered with two quick goals, both from junior Bridget Bigley, to put them up, 3-1. With about 11 minutes left in the half, Salisbury attacker Lynsey Bateman reduced the lead to one with an unassisted goal, but Gossner quickly answered to restore the two-goal lead with a free-position goal. Bateman scored again in the final minute to reduce the margin to 4-3.

TCNJ came out strong in the second half, scoring three unanswered goals – two from Gossner and one from Lauren Dougher – putting the Lions up, 7-3. Bateman scored her third goal of the game with about 15 minutes to play, but Gossner was having a career-best performance, scoring again for a 9-5 Lions lead at the 10-minute mark.

Salisbury's Linda Ackermann completed a hat trick of her own with back-to-back goals, pulling the Sea Gulls to within two, but neither team scored in the remaining 6:43 of the game. The Lions monopolized the ball for more than five minutes down the stretch before turning it over with just 12 seconds left to play, but Salisbury couldn't capitalize.

Gossner led the Lions with a career-best five goals and six points. Bigley had three goals, while goalkeeper Megan Marquardt recorded nine saves. Salisbury was led by Bateman and Ackermann with three goals apiece, while Sea Gulls goalie Ali Goetz had 10 saves.

The Lions have won 11 titles, 10 under Pfluger's tutelage. The national championship appearance was a first for the Sea Gulls, who finished the season 17-1, including earlier victories over TCNJ and then-No. 1-ranked Middlebury.

Middlebury Ends Perfect Season with Overtime Win: Middlebury reclaimed the championship throne with a 13-11 overtime victory over The College of New Jersey in the Division III Women's Lacrosse Championship game May 16 at St. John Fisher. The Panthers ended the season 19-0, a school record for wins along with a fourth perfect season.

Middlebury is now 70-1 over the past four seasons and 131-7 over the past eight. The victory marks the Panthers' fifth lacrosse title overall, with the last coming in 2002.

The College of New Jersey ended its season at 18-1. The Lions have won this event a record 11 times, with their last victory coming in 2000.

Middlebury earned the win despite leading-scorer Nuala O'Donohoe receiving two yellow cards (for stick infractions) in the game, forcing a red card and her ineligibility to play the final 29:23 of the contest.

The College of New Jersey led, 2-1, before O'Donohoe tied the game at the 19:29 mark of the first half. The Lions regained the lead before a pair of goals from Michele Bergofsky and O'Donohoe gave Middlebury a 4-3 advantage. The College of New Jersey scored four of the game's next five goals to take a 7-5 lead with 3:13 left in the first half. Schuyler Winstead found the back of net for the Panthers with 38 seconds left in the half to cut the lead to 7-6 at the break.

The second half stayed tight, with the Lions scoring two goals in 31 seconds to take a 10-8 lead with 12:21 remaining in regulation time. Middlebury then regained control, scoring three straight goals to forge an 11-10 advantage. Elizabeth Renehan scored the first on a free position, followed by goals from Liza Humes at 5:46 and Caitlin McCormick at 2:47. The College of New Jersey came right back and tied the game with just one minute left, forcing overtime.

Two three-minute overtime periods were played, with Middlebury scoring with 1:37 left in the first overtime to take a 12-11 lead on a goal from Bergofsky. Channing Weymouth sealed the game as time was expiring to give Middlebury the 13-11 win.

Middlebury defeated Amherst, 13-9, to advance to the title game. The College of New Jersey won its semifinal against Salisbury, 14-9.

Meet the New Boss: Amherst's Liz Martin scored six goals, four in the final 11 minutes, to lead the Jeffs to an 11-9 dethroning of two-time defending champion Middlebury, May 18 at St. John Fisher. The victory snapped the Panthers' 51-game win streak, which dated to the 2000 semifinals.

With the win, Amherst, which had been bridesmaid in three of the last five years, claimed its first championship, defeating its conference rival in the third meeting between the two teams of the year. The Panthers won the first two games, 16-5 during the regular season, and 9-5 in the championship game of the New England Small College Athletic Conference tournament.

Panthers Comeback: Undefeated Middlebury rallied from a six-goal, second-half deficit to beat Amherst, 11-10, in overtime, as the Panthers won their third title in the last five years. The winning score came from Betsy Wheeler, her third goal of the game, 24 seconds into the first extra period. Middlebury's victory made it the fourth straight year that the championship team was undefeated.

Lions Roar: The College of New Jersey knocked off Williams for the second time in three years, 14-8, May 21, in front of its home crowd.

The Lions, who finished the season 17-0, won their 10th championship overall and seventh in the last 10 years. Middlebury is the only other team to have won the title since 1991. The College of New Jersey's unblemished record is its seventh in the last nine years. All but one has come under coach Sharon Goldbrenner-Pfluger, who has eight women's lacrosse championships to her name. The Lions also have won the title all three times they have hosted. The other two years were 1991 and 1995, both under Pfluger, who also coached the field hockey team to that sport's national championship in the fall of 1999.

Neighborhood Battle: Middlebury won its second championship in three years, holding off a late charge from fellow New England Small College Athletic Conference member Amherst to claim a 10-9 victory May 16 at Johns Hopkins.

The Panthers got two goals each from Heidi Howard, Kully Hagerman and Katherine Rodormer, helping them to best a five-goal effort by Sarah Scheessele.

Amherst reached the title game by shocking defending champion College of New Jersey, 11-8, May 15, in the semifinals. The loss was the Lions' second in 133 games, snapped the sport's longest winning streak (29 games), and prevented the defending champions from advancing to the national championship game for a record ninth straight time.

Back in Business: College of New Jersey returned to the familiar champion role after a one-year hiatus. Sophomore attacker Tiffany Trockenbrod scored with 2:09 left in the second sudden-death overtime period to lift the Lions to a 12-11 win over Williams in the championship game, May 17, at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

The title was the Lion's ninth overall and fifth in the last six years, but the first under rookie coach Jennifer Hart.
